

Geoff Coughlin's scale modelling now magazine

an internet-only scale model magazine for scale modellers interested in military subjects aircraft

armour

maritime

Just look what you get...

- Weekly and daily updates - see progress as it unfolds so no need to wait for your review
- Bigger In-Progress builds showing you HOW it's done
- Each review on average contains over 50 images and 26 pages A4
- HD video demos and many How-to step-by-steps in your Techniques Bank
- Huge Photo Reference library for modellers with walkaround images
- Storage problems solved - all held on-line
- Print what you like - all finished reviews can be downloaded as PDFs
- Zoom images and galleries to get in closer to all that detail
- £3.95 typically buys you one paper mag - £3.95 buys you all the reviews and articles we've ever published!

Visit and see for yourself...

www.scalemodellingnow.com

Hello

I am Geoff Coughlin, Editor and founder of www.scalemodellingsnow.com, the world's first and biggest internet-only scale model magazine. It has become clear that paper-based magazines alone do not fulfil the needs of modellers of all abilities and levels across the world. Pages of adverts, limited coverage of specific subjects of interest and a lack of objectivity are frequent criticisms we hear. Then of course there are all the storage problems with where to put them all and then, later, tracking down and finding an article or review amongst the hundreds that lie in boxes or on our shelves? There are other issues too... I lead a great team of highly skilled reviewers to resolve these issues.

www.scalemodellingsnow.com has been designed from scratch to meet the needs of modellers by offering you a magazine that's packed with more images, more how-to tips and techniques, video demonstrations, high quality reference photos and simply unequalled value for money in a magazine subscription.

We offer scale modellers a real alternative - a completely new and unique opportunity to enjoy their hobby and interest. An internet-only scale modelling magazine that has everything in one place and it's all held virtually, easily accessible, no storage problems and access for members to a wealth of additional resources never before held in one location.

This is my invitation to you, to come and join this new community!

Geoff

www.scalemodellingsnow.com